

Social Functions During the Past Week in the City of Norfolk. Week in the City of Norfolk.

Entertainments Without Number lonist Ten-The Cluderella Cinb-

Once more do we find ourselves at the beginning of another week, and turning backward for a last lingering look at the pleasures that were ours during the seven days to which we last night said good-bye forever, we behold many pictures and recall many pleasant evenings of vast enjoyment for us. There has not been the gayety that should mark this season of the year when Lent is so rapidly creeping upon us. Yet the Colonial Ball, given by the Daughters of the Revolution Wednesday evening at the Chamberlin Hotel, and the Senior German Friday evening added a brilliancy to the week's program, which, besides these functions, was made up of card parties, receptions

The usual Saturday evening solree took place last night and was most enjovable as usual. The music was good and dancing was indulged in to its in-spiring strains for about two hours, when "Home, Sweet Home," was played as a signal for leaving.

Six of the friends of Mr. Frank W. McCullough gave a dinner in his honor last evening at the Country Club. This event was in honor of Mr. McCullough's approaching marriage to Miss Virginia Hayes, witch will take place Thursday at the home of the bride, in Richmond. The party was begun at 8 Thursday at the home of the bride, in Richmond. The party was begun at 8 o'clock and was an occasion of much fun and wit. The hosts on this evening were Mr. Thomas W. Tannor, Mr. Richard C. Taylor, Mr. J. Saunders Taylor, Mr. Hugh G. Whitehead, Mr. W. M. Osborne, Jr., and Mr. Walter H. Taylor, Jr.

Mrs. William Camp entertained a party of her friends most charmingly Tuesday afternoon at the home of her father, Mr. Herbert Smith, on Bute street. The occasion was a card-party, the ever attractive game of hearts being selected for the amusement of the guests. Each of the players was given a ring, and on winning a game were presented with sugar hearts to keep the score. After the cards had been presented with sugar hearts to keep the score. After the cards had been laid aside a dainty repast was served, when the prizes were awarded. Miss Cleborne won the prize at one table, a French picture, and Miss Braxton was most fortunate at the other table, securing the prize, a bronze buet. The consolation prize was cut for and won by Mrs. Wright, while the booby was carried off by Mrs. Waller. The decorations for this occasion were exceedingly pretty, pink and green being the prevailing colors. Palms and potted plants formed a background for pink carnations and pink-shaded candles, Mrs. Camp's guests were Mrs. Aycock, of Washington; Mrs. Thompson, of Washington; Mrs. W. H. B. Cleave, Mrs. the navy yard; Miss Braxton, of Newthe navy yard; alls Israxion, of New-port News; Mrs. W. H. B. Glover, Mrs. Corbin Waller, Mrs. John G. Tilton, Mrs. Richard Byrd, Mrs. Richard Wright, Miss Lucy Cleborne, Miss Mary Vermillion, Mrs. Thomas Jefferson

Mr. and Mrs. William Reed, Mrs. C.
R. Emerich, Miss Matthews, of Baltimore; Mrs. A. M. Cook, Mr. and Mrs.
Jeffrey Morgan, Miss Edith Tunis, Mr.
and Mrs. A. C. Freeman, Miss Freeman,
Mr. George Loyall, Mr. Edward Higgins, Mr. Kensie Johns, Mr. Lawrence, Mr. James Goode and Mr. Harry Keel-

One of the prettiest affairs of the season that have taken place in Portsmouth was the Colonial Tea given by the ladies of Trinity Church. Much credit is due Mrs. Griffin Edwards for the success of the undertaking, she being instrumental in getting up and arranging the details of the tea. The tea took place Thursday evening, the rooms being elaborately decorated for the secasion in palms and evergreens. Miss Elizabeth Neely as Lady Washington and Mr. Harry Butt as George Washington received the guests in a charming manner. A musical program was rendered, vocal selections being given by Mrs. Edwards, Miss Bessie Williams, Mr. Harry Butt and Mr. James Duncan. Miss McClure and Mr. Casey played on the plano and recitations were given by Miss Linda Young and Miss Lucy Deans. Refreshments were served, a silver offering being made by each person who came. Quite a nice sum was realized.

Ti Cinderella Club was entertained by h s Lois Wright Thursday even-ing at her home, on Middle street, Ports-
